Dear Wynberg Plumbing Clients,

It is with great regret that I write to you; but it has come to my attention that there have been individuals, sometimes former employees, and companies falsely acting as being an offspring of Wynberg Plumbing Works. Unfortunately none of these claims are true and therefore for your safety we have implemented certain measures to ensure that you know exactly who will be working for you when arriving on site.

Every one of my employees going forward will be carrying on their person a Wynberg Plumbing employee identification card. On arrival I have instructed them to present you with this card as well as introduce themselves to you. If a plumber arrives on site without an I.D., I ask that you please give me a call immediately so that I can investigate the issue and if need be take it up with the SAPS.

Wynberg Plumbing Works has been in operation for over 65 years and is a member of the Master Builders Association (MBA) for the same amount of time. We are also a founding member of the Institute of Plumbers. We therefore only recommend companies affiliated to these relevant associations to being accepted as safe and reputable businesses.

We value you as clients and your safety is extremely important to us. We ask you to please be careful of whom you allow on to your premises. We have had various reports of break-ins, relating to the above mentioned fraudulent activities and have therefore already started investigating to find out who these imposters are and call on you to assist us in catching them and bringing them to justice.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at any time, should you have any questions at all.

Kindest Regards,

Werner Ewers
